COUNTERING THE IMPACTS OF COVID-19 WITH INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS

ISO/UNIDO SPECIAL WEBINAR SERIES

The COVID-19 pandemic has resulted in significant global public health, social and economic challenges. Hence, the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) and the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO) have teamed up to organize a special webinar series on the relevance of international standards in the light of the global health crisis. The virtual events will discuss the importance of international standards and conformity assessment in mitigating the negative effects of COVID-19.
